OUR FIRST DONATION ON FRANKLIN STREET!

One of our first donations we received at our museum’s new home is a baker’s pie case once belonging inside Haas Bakery. The bakery was located at the corner of Clay and Bridgeboro Streets where New Image Alterations and Qtal Barber Shop stands today. The cabinet was donated on June 2nd, 2022 by the Haas/Bintliff families.

INSIDE THE CASE!

It might surprise you to see that inside the glass pie case is a jar of Major League Baseball’s Rubbing Mud, “the official dirt” of the Major League Baseball teams donated by the Mud Man himself Jim Bintliff of Longport, NJ.

This is because the secret mud recipe, first used during baseball’s 1921 season, and created by Lena Blackburne, a Palmyra resident, has a Riverside connection. Blackburne handed down the recipe to his friend John Haas who worked at the family bakery. Haas passed the mud business to his son-in-law, Burns Bintliff, who did the same with the current Mud Man now Jim Bintliff. We hope to have a special program in 2023 prior to MLB’s Opening Day with Jim. Afterall he is married to our president Alice Smith’s cousin, Joanne Powell Bintliff!

Written as a reminder of those events and people that came before us and helped shape Riverside’s beginning, the Riverside Historical Society details and describes the 19th century residents who contributed to Riverside’s prosperity as a community. Read how their interactions helped in the transformation of this small section of Burlington County from a few scattered farms, with very few residents, into the Township of Riverside.

Winner of Burlington County History Recognition Committee’s 2020 Published History Award, “Progress to Riverside: A Story of Our Town’s Past” was written by Trustee, Herm Maurer and was published and sold by the 501(c)(3) non-profit Riverside Historical Society to commemorate the 125th Year of the Incorporation of the Town of Riverside on 02/20/2020!

What would 19th Century social media look like? Wonder no more! Taken from Riverside newspapers:
October 2nd, 1889: Mrs. Tuck was severely cut about the head and face at the Canning Factory a few days ago. A stack of cans fell on her.
October 15th, 1889: William Calketi and Thomas Graves have invented a soap which is said to remove stains from your character.
November 17th 1887: The canning factory is putting up a large number of pumpkins and employs a large force at present.
